(In the space provided below, please explain in detail the reasons for the delay in filing a proper reply.)

On nov. 8, 2004 the applicant did call the examiner about some minor problem, there are 2sets of number on description and the number on drawing does not match. May be an examiner can change the description. The examiner said the applicant can change later even though the patent was granted. The examiner also said she going to change the description to match with the drawing. The examiner said the applicant does not know the us. patent positure. So the applicant thought every thing was done correctly. The applicant had to go out of town to make the prototype and let a friend wait for the letter from us patent. When the applicant got there the applicant tried to unload a band saw from the car and cause a sprain to the back. The next morning the applicant could not even put on the shoes and lather went to see the doctor. The doctor told the applicant not to lift any thing and not to drive. I ended up living in the hotel for month and could not go back home. When applicant's friend received the letter he did mailed only the first page. the applicant did not have a chance to read the less of the pages. The applicant later mailed the issue fee check $965 to us patent and trade mark. Even if the applicant's friend sent ever pages, the applicant to sick and would not be able to work on the drawing. A few month later when the applicant return from business trip and received the us patent and trade mark was abandoned the application.
